Art Unit: 1761

This application contains claims 55-65 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the reply filed on April 28, 2005. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jury et al (EP 0781510) for the reasons set forth in rejecting the claims in the last Office action.

Jury et al (EP 0781510) teach a cultured dairy product comprising yogurt and chocolate or any flavor fat-containing confectionery material (see entire document; especially column 2, lines 54-55; column 3, line 47 to column 4, line 8; and claims 1, 3, and 4).

The claims appear to differ as to the recitation of pH and  $A_w$ .

The claimed pH and  $A_w$  would be obvious to that of Jury et al as the same components are used. It is further noted that the confectionery material cited by Jury et al is the same as that claimed (see column 2, line 46 to column 3, line 13).

Art Unit: 1761

Applicant's arguments filed January 25, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Jury et al do not teach maintaining physical integrity of the chocolate inclusions in yogurt.

Jury et al clearly teach the addition of chocolate to frozen or chilled yogurt (column 2, lines 52-55).

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
